

Savvi (No Fuego)

No Fuego

You stand with your bags facin' out t'wards the crew.

Your armor is brrrandished in all thatcha' do.

Until the day comes when our worries are set free, we'll fight for each other and live how we please. We're sailing onward over uncharted seas, through hurricanes and we've conquered those that decieve. We live our dreams, cause in the end we know it's all we got. So raise your swords and your bottle of E.

Stand your ground and remember what it's all about.

We won't surrender. Heading to the unknown. Fucked up, 300 miles from home and we're not stopping!
