

Straight Jacket Made for Two

Thomas Samuel Orr

I'm drifting away from reality because there's nothing left here that I want to see I haven't a reason for hanging on 'cause I've gone crazy since you've gone I've been waiting for you in my straight jacket made for two I've been waiting for you in my straight jacket made for two Memories of you invade my mind What kind of memories? The hurting kind I've been trying oh so hard to forget your face ever since you found someone else to take my place I've been waiting for you in my straight jacket made for two I've been waiting for you in my straight jacket made for two In my straight jacket made for two My straight jacket made for two I've been waiting for you in my straight jacket made for two
