Scratch

Allister

Ive been sitting here for hours a burning image of you in my mind finding comfort in the words you say but its not the sameI know you're worth the wait and I cant explain what Im going through inside But I would turn away the world just to have her here with me tonighttake our time making sure that everything feels right it wont be easy but im not afraid she's so far awayyou better start from scratch its now or never but we cant look back I need you with me for another day shes so far away yeah far awayIve been sitting here forever your voice is resonating in my mind countless hours with you on the phone and now im not alone I know youre worth the wait and I cant escape what Im going through inside
but I would turn away the world just to have her here with me tonightI know theres no time left for second chances Still we're right despite these circumstances Youve changed me more than you could ever know So we will just hang on until tomorrow so take my hand dont ever let me go

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/