It's Magic

Billy Valentine

Ooh, I try to talk to you
Ooh, it's like I can't get through
Ooh, have you blown me away?
Ooh, that's how you're making me feelHugs and kisses, broken wishes
Heart in pieces all on replay
Over and over again
Please help tell me which path I need to takeI know you're hiding inside
And oh God, yes, it is frustrating
But if you give me the time
I've got so much to share with you
I just can't get you out my mindAnd now you've got me wondering what the hell I'm supposed to do
Other side of my world and I know that I'm in love with you
And if it's tugging inside we both know I took you for a ride
And honey what have I done? Oh believe me I have realizedWith you, only you, I know that I can be myself
Funny how I could find love with you and nobody else
I could call you crying four in the morning and you'd make it better
Even when I thought I couldn't pull through and we'd be trying togetherLet your body receive what I can give
Remember it last week, it's happening
Let your body reveal an innocence
Let me set you free, it's magicLet your body receive what I can give
Remember it last week, it's happening
Let your body reveal an innocence
Let me set you free, it's magicYou're in my thoughts all the time
And I can't seem to shift you from my mind
I know I made a mistake
I need some help with shifting this heartacheYou're in my thoughts all the time
You're in my thoughts all the time
You're in my thoughts all the time
You're in my thoughts all the time
