

Frontiers

Vertical Church Band

I cannot feel your love so strong and still,
From where I've hidden.
I cannot hear your voice above my will,
But still You listen. And all the while,
You call me to your grace,
All that I undid fades. Lead me to the end of myself,
Take me to the edge of something greater. I'm looking out beyond this great unknown,
Though I can't see it.
One day I'll see the place You call my home,
Lord, I'll be near it. And all the while,
You call me to your grace,
All that I undid fades.
Lead me to the end of myself,
Take me to the edge of something greater.
Lead me to the end of myself,
Take me to the edge of something greater. I am standing on the great frontiers,
Of your love, of your love.
You have overcome my deepest fears,
With your love, with your love. I am standing on the great frontiers,
Of your love, of your love.
You have overcome my deepest fears,
With your love, with your love. I am standing on the great frontiers,
Of your love, of your love.
You have overcome my deepest fears,
With your love, with your love.
Lead me to the end of myself,
Take me to the edge of something greater.
Lead me to the end of myself,
Take me to the edge of something greater.
Something greater.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>