

Another Day

Bodyjar

Thought too long and wound up wrong But I can't take anything back Made the choice with someone's voice Still I can't take anything back The problem is only what it makes you And I'm not the first to tell you Even though you won't be sure Still you can't take anything back You know you can't be right all the time You wanted everyone One another day is done Wakes at noon but not to soon With the whole day left to sit back Race is run what's done is done 'Cause he can't take anything back Delusion creates your own submission So wake up to you decisions Even though you won't be sure Still you can't take anything back One another day is done You wanted everyone You know you can't be right all the time (x4) One last time
