

Hold On, Hold On

Thief

Hold on, hold on
Please don't take your life today
Hold on, hold on
I know there must be a different way
We've got only little time
I can't guarantee it will work out fine
So why throw it all away?

Hold on, hold on
Don't lose your confidence
Hold on, hold on
I know you're missing a general sense
We're all fighting on our own
But sometimes there is someone
Who'll guide you into space

You can start all over again
You can start all over again
You're always able to you can start all over again
