

Japanese to English (Live in Paris)

Red House Painters

I went as far as losing sleep
I went as far as messing up my life
Unloving still strike me different
A million miles away from home
And fifteen from a payphone Where we sat lonely on the sand You're ten years older
We translate Japanese to English
And English to Japanese It's not that simple
This dictionary never has a word
For the way I'm feeling
It's nothing plain for me Of a different god and moral
What if I laid my head down on your stomach
Or put my mouth to your hand
I cannot translate Japanese to English
Or English to Japanese What I had to say is unsaid
What I had to do is undone
And if it was done
I'm sure it would have killed our hour Where we sat lonely on the stand Above the water the awful gray
Our current from japan
Didn't sweep away

Songwriters

Kozelek, Mark Edward Published by Lyrics © Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>