

Dirty Blonde

Summer Fiction

Falling in love with you girl
Like throwing your arms 'round the world
Saying I love you
It's not above you Gave me your heart on a string
It didn't mean anything
But I returned it
You never earned it Try not to think about it
Dirty blonde split ends
You were my friend
Sharpen the knife We never talk about it
A fox on the run
Out having fun
Just for the night
People get what they deserve
Break your icy steel reserve
And say I love you
It's not above you Oh I gave you everything
It didn't mean anything
Don't let them change you
Or rearrange you Try not to think about it
Dirty blond split ends
You were my friend
Sharpen the knife We never talk about it
A fox on the run
Out having fun
Just for the night
Try not to think about it
Dirty blonde split ends
Is this the end?
Here comes the night We never talk about it
A fox on the run
No longer fun
'Til morning light
