One in a Million

Johnny Lee

Sometimes it seems the world's a jungle
Through it all I was born to stumble
Searchin' for somethin' I never would findI take your love in bits and pieces
Comin' to you only when it eases that lonely feelin'
That gets in my mind and you treat me so kindWith those hard times come a dime a dozen
But girls with your kind of lovin' are one in a million
They're so hard to findAnd those hard times come a dime a dozen
But girls with your kind of lovin' are one in a million
I'm lucky you're mineI know your friends don't think much of me
They say you're a fool to love me
But girl I know they'll never turn you aroundYou're bound to love, you hard luck poet
When I let you down you don't show it, you know it don't matter
They can't touch what we found when the sun goes downAnd those hard times come a dime a dozen
But girls with your kind of lovin' are one in a million
They're so hard to findAnd those hard times come a dime a dozen
But girls, with your kind of lovin' are one in a million
I'm lucky you're mineAnd those hard times come a dime a dozen
But girls, with your kind of lovin' are one in a million
They're so hard to findAnd those hard times come a dime a dozen

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/