Too Much

Rusted Root

Love, I think I see
You are there again
That place you go
When everything on you depends
You hold your ground
'Cause we will find a way
To live it all
And still have fun
'Cause it's too much thinking
It's too much worrying
Rest your head aside me now
It's too much thinking upon your shoulders
Rest your worried soul upon me now
Love, before you sleep
Let your mind believe
That we can cope
With all life hands us
And breathe in deep
The strength you need
To fill you up and calm your mind
Just like, I keep telling you
It's too much thinking
It's too much worrying
Rest your head aside me now
It's too much thinking upon your shoulders
Rest your worried soul upon me now
We have it all
I can't believe we made it this far
But we did
We have so much to be this thankful for
And so relax, take heart
Ease your mind
'Cause it's too much thinking
It's too much worrying
Rest your head aside me now
It's too much thinking upon your shoulders
Rest your worried soul upon me now
We have it all
We have it all

Too much thinking
It's too much worrying
Rest your head aside me now
It's too much thinking upon your shoulders
Rest your worried soul upon me now
It's too much thinking
It's too much worrying
