

In Every Sunflower

Bell X1

My book has more bookmarks than pages
 'Cause it take me ages
 Or is everybody reading?
Is everybody reading? Standing on a black Ulster hill
 I never fear the chill
 'Cause everybody's holding
Everybody's holding I wouldn't swap the pain
 For never knowing you
 I wouldn't swap the pain
It was worth it for the view My book has more bookmarks than pages
 'Cause it take me ages
 Or is everybody reading?
Is everybody reading? Of a sparkling Medusa
 With snakes of cerise and blue
 And though we're all pillars of salt now
It was worth is for the view I wouldn't swap the pain
 For never knowing you
 I wouldn't swap the pain
'Cause it was worth it for the view We're still watching
 Your rainbow through the shower
 And we still see you
In every sunflower We're still watching
 I make days from the hours
 And I still see you
 In every sunflower
Every screaming sunflower And how they scream of you
