

Sweetheart

Lotte Kestner

you're so blank
like something that's never been you're not showing
the ghost of anything
but if you'd not been mine then how would i know
when you go to sleep
you bite down so your teeth make sounds as you start to dream and the names we give each other just don't last but the one who loves the most gets to keep the past
right here
