Eat That Up, It's Good For You

Two Door Cinema Club

You would look a little better
Don't you know
If you just wore less make-up
But its hard to realize
When you're sky high
Fighting off the spaceshipsAnd so you're drinking in your room
To make it all go
It didn't end too soon
You've got the next one
You're holding on too long
You've got to let go
Your other love is gone
And you knowIts too late
Its too late
You've got another one coming
And its going to be the sameI tried to find a quiet place that we could go
To help you make decisions
But I didn't find it easy to tell them apart
With double visionAnd so you're drinking in your room
To make it all go
It didn't end too soon
You've got the next one
You're holding on too long
You've got to let go
Your other love is gone
And you knowIts not the same
Its not the same
Its not the same
You're going to tell me that I'm right
You're going to come back down
And find yourself
Where you are againYou didn't know
You didn't know
You didn't know
So don't pretend you saw it now
Its not something you'd want to happen
Now you know who you are again
