Broke

Elise Estrada

Im broke broke
Breitling is sitting on my nightstand, its been a while since I put you on.
All that bling is laying on my nightstand, collecting dust
It might as well be gone.
(Bridge)
Its funny how material things used to matter.
(crazy what we take for granted)
But everytime i see that ring it gets sadder, cause i lost everything im worth.
(Chorus)
Im broke, broke, i dont wanna be without you.
Im broke, broke, i lost everything i lost you baby.
No hope, cant cope, im left here all alone,
Id burn every dollar If you come back home
Im broke, broke, I lost everything i lost you baby,
Im broke
Who knew, that you could loose it so fast.
I bet it all on a single head
Who knew if you dont protect your love it wont last
It took you late to make me understand

(Bridge)
Its funny how material things used to matter
(crazy what we take for granted)
but everytime I see that ring it gets sadder cause i lost everything im worth
(Chorus)
Im broke cant never thought itll come to this now how am i supposed to live without the one thing
You matter the most
Im broke, broke.
I lost it all
Im broke, broke.
So come back home
Im broke, broke, i dont wanna be without you.
Im broke, broke, i lost everything i lost you baby.
No hope, cant cope, im left here all alone,
Id burn every dollar If you come back home
Im broke, broke, I lost everything i lost you baby,

Im broke
