

Lyin' To Myself

Todrick Hall

Baby I know you know
That I'm an animal
And darling you can't tame this kind of man
Baby I tried so hard
To be the man you want
But every time you tear my walls down
They just build back up again Told you once
You'll never see me cry
I'm not that kind of guy
But now I know you're done with excuses, yeah
Once I saw you say goodbye
Thought twice about that lie
But I know you know
What the truth is But these old chains make me feel safe
And these gold chains make me feel brave baby
It ain't you
So please don't change
I can't be true to no one else
To busy lyin'
Lyin' to myself
Lyin' to myself Baby I know I'm guilty in this game of love
I've holden back not showing all my cards
I'm terrified what move love gonna play on us
And I'm sure it just takes courage
But I'm scared to fall that hard Told you once
You'll never see me cry
I'm not that kind of guy
And I know you're done with excuses, yeah
Once I saw you say goodbye
Thought twice about that lie
But I know you know
What the truth is But these old chains make me feel safe
And these gold chains make me feel brave baby
It ain't you
So please don't change
I can't be true to no one else
To busy lyin'
Lyin' to myself
Lyin' to myself But these old chains make me feel safe

And these gold chains make me feel brave baby
It ain't you
So please don't change
I can't be true to no one else
To busy lyin'
But these old chains make me feel safe
And these gold chains make me feel brave baby
It ain't you
So please don't change (please don't ever change)
I can't be true to no one else
To busy lyin'
Lyin' to myself
Please don't change baby
I can't be true to no one else
To busy lyin'
Lyin' to myself

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>