Distance and Meaning

Converge

That's where they die
That's where she outshines
That's where they dieI'll never burn...And Like that heart got in the way
Like that true lost fire
Like that the burden of rage
Like the years we burned downI heard that phone call
My hesitation
Everything, I felt
Everything you needI heard that phone call
The hesitation
Everything I am
Everything you needSplinters of sentence and heartless advice
Nothing's changed, nothing's changed but these days... but these days entwined
but these days... entwinedThat's where they die
That's where she outshines
That's where they dieAnd now they're born...And Like that heart got in the way
Like that true lost fire
Like that the burden of rage
Like the years we burned downDistance and meaning...I'll become
The lost cause
Like the distance
In your eyes
Like the years
We burned down
