So Gone Now

Matt Andersen

If I gave you a wish, babe
Would I be the thing that you'd change?
Would you wish you never smiled, babe
Would you wish you never asked for my name?
When you pour all your heart
On that last falling star
Will that be the wish that you make?Do you ever think about, babe
How right it felt when it was good?
I'd shoot at the moon, babe
Just to hold you in the dark, if I could How we'd stay up all night just to feel the sun rise
Do you ever think about it, babe?'Cause it's been so long now
Since I let you down,
And I don't, I don't know how
You are so gone nowLately I've been talking, babe
Talking to myself about you
Trying to figure out
All of those things I wouldn't do for you
How I didn't even try when we said our last goodbye
And lately I've been talking to me, babe'Cause it's been so long now
Since I let you down
And I don't know how
You are so gone nowNow I'm out on the road, babe
With nothing to do but pass the time
I pull away from the town, babe
Just like I've done to you and I leave them all behind
When I see you again
It'll be just as your friend
I know it's hard, but that's just how it's gonna be, babe'Cause it's been so long now
Since I let you down
And I don't know how
You are so gone nowYeah, it's been so long now
Since I let you down
and I don't know how
You are so gone now
