

This Is Love, This Is Life

Bon Jovi

These days what's left of me
Ain't no prince charming
And my Cinderella feels like
She stayed at the dance too long
We ain't got much
But what we got is all that matters
We're pickin' up the pieces,
Tryin' to put 'em back where they belong
Oh, it's gonna be alright
This is love, this is life
When times get tough
We're still worth the fight
This is love, this is life
The road here's paved
With the brokenhearted
We gotta finish what we started
Oh, better hold on tight
This is love, this is life
These days it seems like
There's three sides to every story
There's yours, mine
Lately there's the cold hard truth
Who cares who's wrong or right
When we turn out the lights?
We'll find forgiveness
When we're in each other's arms tonight
It ain't pretty but somehow
We always make it through
Oh, it's gonna be alright
This is love, this is life
When times get tough
We're still worth the fight
This is love, this is life
The road here's paved
With the brokenhearted
We gotta finish what we started
Oh, better hold on tight
This is love, this is life
Oh, it's gonna be alright

This is love, this is life
When times get tough
We're still worth the fight
This is love, this is life
The road here's paved
With the brokenhearted
We gotta finish what we started
This is love, this is life
This is love, this is life
