

I Believe

Sam Ock

Won't you keep telling me that it will be alright
'Cause all I seem to hear is the steady beat of this lone heart
I'm surrounded by people but still my soul inquires
This desire for more of what I'm still here for
My mind and heart tell me these different things
    Oh the answers I want to know
    What it means to be
    A child of the Light
    I believe there is more than meets the eye
    More to my own life
    There is a perfect peace and I am on my way
    I believe in the neverending song
    And that's where I belong
    I'll never stop for I am on my way
    Well aren't you sick
    And aren't you tired of the sinful choices
    That you make all the time
Are you wishing for a steadfast mind
And you know that you know that you're running out
Of places to hide away the things you hold inside
My mind and heart tell me these different things
    Oh the answers I want to know
    What it means to be
    A child of the Light
    Your mind and heart tell you these different things
    Oh the answers you want to know
    What it means to be
    A child of the Light
    I believe there is more than meets the eye
    More to my own life
    There is a perfect peace and I am on my way
    I believe in the neverending song
    And that's where I belong
I'll never stop for I am on my way
I believe there is more than meets the eye
    More to my own life
There is a perfect peace and I am on my way
    I believe in the neverending song
    And that's where I belong
I'll never stop for I am on my way

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.