

The Year Will End Again

Lucy Wainwright Roche and while you wait the snow will fall again and while you wait the year will end again those little scraps of grace are lost so are we find again and while you wait you'll change your mind again hesitation in everything you do destination ever out of view

all the way back it'll follow you and everyday you'll try to try again and everyday you'll cast the line again take down the pictures from the wall look for a sign again and everyday you'll change your mind again
