

Maggie

El McMeen

When I first set eyes on you
First you beat me up
Then you kissed me too We'd throw stones into the sea
There were no others there
Just you and me Across the bridge
And down the lane
I knew I loved you then
You said you did the same Oh Maggie
What have you done?
I should have seen it coming
And to your side I'd run Oh Maggie
Come to me tonight
I will wait up for you
Make sure you're alright
I miss you You taught me how to sink or swim
When I was scared that day
You just pushed me in And when nobody was around
You let me kiss you then
And there the love I found I said, I'd never let you go
You just smiled at me
How was I to know Oh Maggie
What am I to do?
How can I live with only memories of you? Oh Maggie
Tell me the truth
When your ship was sinking
Did you think it through?
I miss you You were the fountain of my youth
And when I fumbled
You showed me what to do And when we were both 17
You left me standing there
But you were never mean And when I saw you out with him
He looked much older
And you looked very thin I hadn't heard from you in years
And then your mama called
She couldn't speak for tears She said you left me a note
Inside my pocket burns
With these words you wrote Hey, darlin' boy
Don't you cry for me
I am forever yours

Now that I am free We'll be together
Throw stones into the sea
There'll be no others there
Just you and me I miss you
Maggie's gone I think you came the other night
You stroked my brow
Your eyes were full of light It may have only been a dream
When I will walk with you
To places I never have been Maggie's gone
