State Of Mind

Whispertown

Believe me When life seems to fade in black and white It's never too late to change your mind
Live to fight another day A clear blue sky is moving your way
Believe me Dark clouds, they come and they go Live for today, forget tomorrow

Don't waste your breath on broken dreams Time to shake the dust from your feet
Leave your worries for tomorrow Ain't nothing but a state of mind Tell yourself that you can do it It's not too late Time to set your dreams in motion Ain't nothing but a state of mind Tell yourself that you can do it It's not too late
