

Old Piano

Leah Daniels

I haven't been here since you bought that old piano,
The one that I picked up that still sits by your window,

Now 3 years later I'm back staring at your shadow, haunted by the memory, of a love I never could let go

Ohhh!

That rainy day we sat for hours and we played it, it had the perfect sound I knew it was your favorite.

So in love I never thought we wouldn't make it,
how could you let it go?

Ohhh,
what happened to that old piano?
So many love songs, so many notes!

Ohhh,
our finger prints are on the keys,
that old piano is all that's left of you and me

Ohh!

I can hear your laughter,
I can feel your heartbeat, your ghost is in this room as if you're singing to me.
Thought I was over you until I woke the memory, we still live on in those strings,

Ohhh,
what happened to that old piano,
so many love songs,
so many notes,

Oh,
our finger prints are on the keys,
that old piano is all that's left of you and me.
Every time you play it do you think of me?

Oh,

what happened to that old piano?

OHHHHHH!

What happened to that old piano?

So many love songs,

so many notes,

all our finger prints are on the keys,

that old piano is left of you and me,

left of you and me

Oh what happened to that old piano?
