

The Right Spot

The Exploding Boy

It's a real different face that you look onto a different feeling that you had in the morning
The love is strong but your eyes are blue
It's hard to cope suddenly the phone ring
I'll take the fight be with you in two
I had no feeling what I was doing
A hard night started yelled at me all through Called me things this is not a good thing If this is who I am, what are you doing here?
I'm at the right spot (what do you tell me that)
What are you doing (I really think you're nothing)
I am all messed up (some days are always bad)
Go away now (I've already found somebody) When I went out the next day I knew what to do
It's what you said that started something
Are you cold do you have a clue
You walk around like a god damn something
You are strange don't you see it too
There is no feeling in what you're doing
Don't get rid of me by saying soon
Makes no difference just give me something
I'm at the right spot (what do you tell me that)
What are you doing (I really think you're something)
I am all messed up (some guys are always bad)
Go away now (I've already found somebody)
