Follow

Survive Said The Prophet

You'll step then fall,
just to see if anybody would catch you at all
You'll run then stall,
well who would follow you, that can follow through
When you're on your own
Well are you on your own

Have you ever felt the distance
From the crowded rooms that could place you on your own
Have you ever felt alone
And lonely when you hear them singing

Alone when everybody's singing
Alone when everybody's singing

You'll step then fall,
just to see if anybody would catch you at all
You'll run then stall,
well who would follow you, that can follow through
When you're on your own
Well are you on your own

Can you ever break this distance
In crowded room that have placed us on our own Could you let yourself be broken from hiding every melody we used to sing

Every melody we used to sing
Everybody's singing

We'll step then fall,
Cause we didn't have each other to hold in ou arms
We'll run then stall,
I couldn't follow you or just follow through
When we're on our own

Well are we on our own

I couldn't even deny it
That everything just remind me,
Of what I could have done for you

But here I am,
I am standing
Here I am,
I am holding Holding on to something

We'll step then fall
Just to see if anybody would catch you at all

We'll step then fall,
Cause we didn't have each other to hold in ou arms
We'll run then stall,
I couldn't follow you or just follow through
When we're on our own
