

Tether Beat

Twin Shadow

Is your heart not heavy when she says goodbye
Do reach for another when you turn of the light
Do you sigh yourself awake
Is there nothing you can fake?
Do you wear it on your face like it's all you can take?
Does your heart still beat?
Does your heart still beat?
All my golden looks they'll beg for you, some day soon

And all my brief love spills around you
My love appears so thin at the end of the day
Is it too much to ask for, to put it away?
Do we pry ourselves to sleep, is there nothing that's complete
Feel the silver string pulling my hands to your heat
Does your heart still beat?
Does your heart still beat?
All my golden looks they'll beg for you, some day soon
And all my brief love spills around you
