I must admit, I've been holding back
And I got somethin' to say
Now I won't let the words get in my way
I guess I'm feeling my confidence
'Cause the time has come
Time to make the cat let go of my tongueBut I don't know how to say it
Maybe we could play this little game
I hope you catch my drift when I say
It rhymes with doveHave you gotten the picture yet
Or should I say it twice
Maybe the first time around I didn't get it quite right
I wanna make myself perfectly clear
So there's no doubt in your mind
I wanna let you know how I'm feeling insideAnd but I don't know how to say it
Maybe we could play this little game
I hope you catch my drift when I say
It rhymes with gloveOh what I'm thinkin' of sounds like rough, tough, all that stuff
It's one word, one syllable, it feels so unbelievableBut I don't know how to say it
Maybe we could play this little game
I hope you catch my drift when I say
It rhymes withOh I don't know how to say it
Maybe we could play this little game
I hope you catch my drift when I say
"It rhymes with dove"
You know like, shove or glove
