

So They Tell Me

Corey Cyr

So they tell me, I ain't gotta live on the street
And they tell me, I got all the food I need to eat
They tell me heat rises
So how is hell beneath my feet? So they tell me, I gotta live a whole life to learn
And they tell me, I gotta take the wide angled turn
They tell me I'm too young
I'm too young to crash and burn So they tell me, that all their rules is gold
And they tell me, with no rules I have no road
They even tell me son
Dreams are too childish to have and hold So they tell me, there ain't nothin' that I can do
And they tell me, I'll end up a big nothin' to
But I'll tell you something
You couldn't walk a mile in my shoes
