"On The Line - Solo"

Metamorphosis - studio demos

Finally a cause worth fighting for
Finally a hope to believe
Finally a faith that can give me strength
And a vision worthy to dream

The road is long and the journey is hard
Without a guide to take your hand
They all turned right that's when you turned left
To walk a foreign and unknown land

I will run
For this I will stand up and fight
The beauty of the dream
Is worth laying it all on the line

The past is done the future is still unclear
All you have is the now
To make a choice to step up to the plate
Will you swing or just bow out

I will run
For this I will stand up and fight
The beauty of the dream
Is worth laying it all on the line

Are you nervous
Are you terrified
If your too scared to jump
You'll never feel the rush
What it's like to fly

Close your eyes now
And just believe
You can feel this is right
You know this is right

Faith is all you need

I will run
For this I will stand up and fight
The beauty of the dream
Is worth laying it all on the line

I will run
For this I will stand up and fight
The beauty of the dream
Is worth laying it all on the line

I will stand up and fight
Stand up and fight
Going to stand up and fight

Laying it all on the line
