Pin Me Down

Clawfinger

I try to hide and deny my inner thoughts and true reactions
By fooling myself with ill-concealed dissatisfaction
I can't take it any more, I can't stand the situation
I don't want to be a victim of another confrontationI'll pretend that I know, I need you to sympathize
I'm so unsure of myself, so please don't you criticize
You can bend me and shake me, you can twist me till I break
And whatever you do I'll take the blame for your mistakesPin me down, I put my hands over my mouth
When I need to shout, you pin me down
I learn to hate myself instead of letting it outYou want to shape me up, so that you can mold me in
You want to fold me out just so you can fit me in
You feed me full with your discriminating terrible lies
What do you want from me, should I believe in all your alibis?I don't know where to go, so which way should I turn
I try to understand but you don't want me to learn
You tie my feet to the ground, there's not a chance that I can walk
I want to scream but you gag my mouth so I can't talkYou want to stretch me out just so you can pin me down
You want to dry me out just so you can watch me drown
You want to watch me starve, so you can force me to eat
And then you knock me down when I'm back on my feetYou want to stretch me out just so you can pin me down
You want to dry me out just so you can watch me drown
You want to watch me starve, so you can force me to eat
And then you knock me down when I'm back on my feet
