

Think For Yourself

Face to Face

You think you know just what it means
To be alone
You think you've suffered for your cause
You're wrong I don't really need to know what makes you tick
Or what you think is right
I don't want to know the reason you believe Right now you're like the others
Your thoughts are not your own
Try thinking for yourself and act on what you know Still you try to defend these things
You were taught
You've got to try to change the way
You learn
