Vivid

Electronic

My imagination wants to see
The vivid colors of reality
There's a place out there beyond my grasp
A revolution in a looking glassI've got to get this problem off my chest
I'm sick and tired of bein' second best
I rearranged my credibility
A fund raiser for a restless seaDon't ever doubt me
What's come over you?
Won't you forgive me?
What are you gonna do?Don't ever doubt me
What's come over you?
Won't you forgive me?
What are you gonna do?
What will you do?I can't contain what's in my head
I'm losing words that I must have read
Do you remember the time we spent?
It seems that we were the main eventHave you a reason to behave like this?
Maybe you need a psychoanalyst
If you keep pushing me out of the door
For sure, you'll never see me againNo one to talk to What am I gonna do ?
You're never there
Right when I need youGive me a cause
Give me a reason
For your applause
I'll commit treasonAnd in my mind I know I'm right
It's the same thing every night
You're not to blame so don't you cry
You don't need me so hurt my prideIn all that time, I know we tried
Line by line and side by side
And still I pray that we'll get by
But it don't seem real and I don't know why?And in my mind I know I'm right
It's the same thing every night
You're not to blame so don't you cry
You don't need me so hurt my prideAnd in my mind I know I'm right
It's the same thing every night
Why do you cry, you're not to blame?
When will you change this sad refrain?Sad refrain
Oh, when will you change

This sad refrain
When will you change
This sad refrain
