

Every Man Gets His Wish

Lana Del Rey

(you can whistle for it)

(verse 1)

baby, you'll never grow old in my eyes with your golden grill, true love never dies. you wanna watch me while i watch t.v while youre tuh-tuh-tuh-tuh-touching me were forever young in paradise as long as you got that chevrolet i will ride. were gonna party like its 1949 riding that chevrolet from july till july gonna see it all before he says goodbye every man deserves to see the sun rise.

(chorus)

every man gets his wish
every man gets his wish
you told me this
where is mine?
every man gets his wish
every man gets his wish
promised me this
well, you lied.

(verse 2)

you said ill never make out outta here alive with the rate i was going, id be lucky to die i was born so bad not naturally right the brightest star on hollywood and vine were gonna party like were running outta time were getting drunk and driving fast on cherry wine never do belong to anyone i find leaving everything i ever knew behind.

(chorus)

every man gets his wish
every man gets his wish
you told me this
where is mine?
every man gets his wish
every man gets his wish
promised me this

well, you lied.

(bridge)

i learned how to make love from the movies he found me waitressing at ruby tuesdays he said i wanna buy you a classic white milk shake i said ill serve you up a special side of heartbreak

(special side of heartbreak)

I was working down at the corner cafe you drove my in a chevrolet whistle at me as my hips go sway lana del rey how you get that way?

(how you get that way)

he loves my heart shaped sunglasses he loves the heart shape my ass is crystal crystal champagne glasses

(chorus)

every man gets his wish

every man gets his wish

you told me this

where is mine?

every man gets his wish

promised me this

well, you lied.
