

Violet's Song

David Hodges

Underneath the quiet dream
Far above the cloudless dark
Anywhere tomorrow leads
You will always have my heart

So when you run
Fast and far
Painting the purple sky
Remember this lullaby
Trace the moon and chase the stars
Cause little Violet
No matter where you are

You are in my every thought
Leaving footprints where you go
If tomorrow finds you lost
Made these footprints bring you home

And when you run
Fast and far
Painting the purple sky
Remember this lullaby
Trace the moon and chase the stars
Cause little Violet
No matter where you are

I will love in the summer
Full of promise
Full of wonder

And in the autumn
When the wind comes
I will stay
and I will love you

In the winter
When your fire
Turns into embers

Iâ€™ll celebrate when spring awakens

You to run fast and afar.
Painting the purple sky
Remember this lullaby
So trace the moon and chase the stars
Cause little Violet
No matter where you are
Little Violet,
Youâ€™ll always have my heart.
