

Ballad Of Restored Confidence

Cadillac Sky

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I should have known that you were trouble when I heard the words my sister said she told me that you were spoiled - rotten to the bone I suppose that I was blind by lovesick words and happy times if only I'd listened to my sister I'd have known that I am worthy of love and I deserve to be loved the sad song has resound in you your shallow heart and pounding too turns you into driftwood not caring where you go but don't assume you're too far gone to rise above and change your song passion never leaves but you must keep it on the stove
I am worthy of love
I deserve to be loved
I spent the last week empty been all attain a craving in my chest because an angel had left me and all I ever gave her was my best
I am worthy of love
I deserve to be loved
I'll put the cap back on this pen
And I will close this book again
I'll pick up the pieces and I'll wait till the day
The waters of this world will rise by noon it will be past my eyes I'll break off from you and drift away
I am worthy...
I deserve...
