

Trail of Tears

Virgin Steele

[Music: De Feis/Pursino, lyrics: De Feis] Ask and you won't be forgiven

This is a blessing in disguise

All of your choices are spoken

You've killed the child in my eyes

I'm gonna see you burn When in some dark distant future you'll meet my presence in a song

You'll punch the walls in frustration

Can you hear my voice and say I'm wrong?

I'm gonna see you burn With the first light I touch your skin rise above the challenge, the day begins and the brightnesssss runs to black fading in the darkness I'm not coming back Here we live and here now we die on this mountainside arms entwined, the chosen the brave fire wind to take you away like the wrath of God Ask and you won't be forgiven

This is a blessing in disguise

All of your choices are spoken

You've killed the child in my eyes

I'm gonna see you burn
