

Infinite

Indubious

Well, we are infinite, star dusted human satellites. Once again I tell them, my we are infinite. Yeah man, I praise the Almighty I. Sigading ding woayo. Well we are infinite. Once again I tell them, my we are infinite. Yeah man, I praise the Almighty I. I am the light inside of you, you are the light inside of me. We are the filament inside the heart of infinality. We come to spread our light and shine so brightly you will see, we are connected at the root and we are one eternally. Want to take a lesson? Just open up your eyes, let yourself be reunited with the part that never dies. The vehicle you're driving will return again in time, and the cycle will repeat as an offering. I tell them, we are infinte.Chorus

Well, blessed is the sound and the Love from within. Spirit has no end and you can't find no beginning. What a humbling honor and responsibility. To be a satellite It is an opportunity. We come to cut away the ego, obliterate the me. We bring about the wego, accentuate the we, accelerate the healing of a one community and we facilitate the being of a new reality. So don't fear, so don't hate. Resolve your time for your hope and your faith. Better realize before you find its too late. Loving is the key to a heavenly state. So I say; Uplift your Idren, forgive your children. Light, it is a compass for your love and your wisdom. Darkness is a death and a pessimists vision. Loving is the light shining though optimism. Chorus

Well, Children of the covenant prepare. Well, open up your mind and spread some light and be aware. Well in this time of prophecy we must all of us take care to free up all of your vision from the prison of despair, to spread a little happiness to everyone who will hear, to chant down Babylon to anyone who has an ear, to all of all the children with no food or clothes to wear, to all the evil doers who need love to see things clear, to all the families and the victims of our Earth's repair. Yeah, we will never die, we only move away from here. So while we're all alive it's time to rise and wipe your tears. I see your higher self and all the love you've come to share. Oh value what is real, what is heart, and what is pure. Cultivate compassion, love your life and leave your fear. And maybe in this time of confusion we will see we are reflections of the Almighty! So it goes, we are infinite

I hope I was relatively accurate, I tried!

Lyrics Submitted by Fire King

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>