Purple Sky

Greyson Chance

purple skies and violet rainbows and all the angels passing by with their words they try to break you but they can't shake you with all their liesanother day we will survive another day is worth the fight today we will rise
we will walk the rainbows and take over the sky don't let them change you no
'cause you are beautiful just like the purple skyblack mirrors with no reflection broken hearts and rejection record times make the sound that call the angels homeward boundanother day we will survive another day is worth the fight
today we will rise
we will walk the rainbows and take over the sky
don't let them change you
no
'cause you are beautiful just like the purple skythese are the words and these are the choices we are the children, we are the voices this is the life and these are the questions this is the time we're being testedthese are the words and these are the choices
we are the children, we are the voices
this is the time we're being testeddon't let them change you 'cause you are beautiful just like the purple sky you are beautiful Tyler and Phoebe
Eric and Billy (we remember) Megan and Raymond Seth and Justin (we remember) April and Brandon
Matthew and Jared (we remember) Meredith and Jefferey Zack and Asher
we remember 'cause you're beautiful just like the purple sky
