Sunday Parking Lot

Terminal

I heard the news states away
You were fairing through white sleep
Collapsed outside the restaurant
Couldn't dry my eyes at the thought of youWent to visit you in a hospital room downtown
You barely saw me spent the afternoon falling
Fall apart, you knew better than to give up
I only wish that I hadLately I've been thinking
Everyone here is leaving me alone
To wait my time to go
Maybe I should go
