You'll Be Fine

Widespread Panic

Feeling alone but we are here
Paying the toll for our little world
Days like these seem to take some time
When they're over, you will findWait for you, see you through
It's what we've known all this time
We're taking you to break their rules
It's what we've done all the whilePut you in this place to change your mind
Take away things that were your life
After they've made their example of you
When their fun is over and you are throughWait for you, see you through
It's what we've known all this time
We're taking you to break their rules
It's what we've done all the while

Lyrics provided by