Rhythm of the Heart

The Ravyns

He was a lunatic
He didnt have a plea
They locked him in the closet
Threw away the keyShe thought he could be saved
From the damage done
From the day they introduced her
He could hurt no oneNo one knows the rhythm
No one knows the rhythm
No one knows the rhythm of the heartThey were inseparable
They were all they had
He was gifted in the mirror
She was diamond cladHe went off to work
And his head was clear
When he got home late that evening
She had disappearedNo one knows the rhythm
No one knows the rhythm
No one knows the rhythm of the heartShe was insatiable
She had all the best
Her latest motion picture
Was a big successAll the critics cheered
But she was not around
When the ravers broke the door in
She could not be foundNo one knows the rhythm
No one knows the rhythm
No one knows the rhythm of the heart
