Broken Pieces (feat. Lacey)

Apocalyptica

Too late - this is not the answer
I need to pack in
I can't pull your heart together
With just my voice alone
One thousand shards of glass
I came to meet you in
You cut the peace out of meAnd as you ripped it all apart,
That's when I turned to watch you
And as the light in you in the dark
I saw you turn to shadow
If you would salvage some part of you that once new love
But I'm loosing this
And I'm loosing youOh I've gotta turn and run
From faces that you never see
Oh I've gotta save my blood
From all that you broken
Pack up these pieces of meIt's too late now to stop the process
This was your choice - you let it in
This double life you lead is eating you up from within
One thousand shards of glass you pushed beneath my skin
And left me lying there to bleedAnd as you showed me your scars
I only held you closer
But as the light in you went dark I saw you turning over
I wanted always to be there for you and close to you
But I'm loosing this
And I'm loosing youOh I've gotta turn and run
From faces that you never see
Oh I've gotta save my blood
From all that you broken
Pack up these pieces of meFrom broken pieces
Pack up these pieces of me
From broken pieces
Pack up these piecesMaybe without me
You'll return to all the beauty I once knew
But if I stay I know
We will both be drowned by you holding onto meOh I've gotta turn and run
From faces that you never see
Oh I've gotta save my blood
From all that you broken

Pack up these pieces of meFrom broken pieces
Pack up these pieces of me
From broken pieces
Pack up these pieces of me
