Never Again

Milk Inc.

You took your love away.
Had nothing left to say.
I guess you're still too young to know.
You can't decide which way to go, right now.Never again I'll be broken,
Never again will someone hurt my soul again.
My heart was open, never again will I fall.I've seen this all before
Should learn to close the door.
I guess you're still too young to know.
You can't decide which way to go, right now.I guess you want your freedom back,
At least, that's what you told me.
I've seen this all before
Should learn to close the door.
