

Sustain You

Greenwheel

So far away not knowing
How to handle the distance between
Avoiding situations that will show
That this is not the same Try to see through my window
I cant but I will
Sustain you as long as I can bear
The thought of humbly keeping Silence is my answer
I will remain here, quietly seething
As the crowd moves in roaring
To carry me away Ive always kept this push
From shoving the edge closer now
Its true enough
I have nothing left to say
