Refugee

Peter Subway & The Tickets

REFUGEE by Peter Subway

Try to imagine you sit in a dark train
Donâ€™t know where to go you sit and wait
You cant look out the window u cant see where u go Leap in in the dark uncertain destination
You have the freedom
To go where u want to -not everybody can
To do what u dream to do what u just do
But You are not a dog
You take his cage away
And his collar down let him free or let him stay
Lines of people, Persecuted ,and chased away
Just live in Peace is their purpose and their aim
Where can they rest- they came a long, long way
War, Thirst, and starvation no place to stay
Tear down all the borders and you will get the right
To go where you want to and The freedom to deside
And donâ€™t forget to treat your brothers right
They just canâ€™t turn back Or flee in another direction
And donâ€™t know Where they sleep tonight ?
Everybody should have freedom
To go where he want to -not everybody can
To live his dream to do what he wanna do
People are no dogs in chains take the cage away
and their collars down let them free or let them stay
