

Retrospect

Epica

Tick-tock goes the clock as time is passing by Don't you know this moment will exist and fade to black
When we look back upon mistake
We're trying to find a way
Never let the sticks and stones break bones and beat us through I remember the light
Turn our world upside down
Reflecting on the many years
That passed us by Once every now and then we hide inside
To grasp reality and let our light shine through
We welcome to end raids and rising tides
And the darkness that surrounds us turns to light Good bye, we'll always say that balance will remain Point the key of might to opened doors and disengaged
When we all enterprise and find the key to survive
Unlock the secrets of the heart and memories Once every now and then we hide inside
To grasp reality and let our light shine through
We welcome to end raids and rising tides
And the darkness that surrounds us turns to light Mindless will show you now
And never reside
There is the different way
Inflame your energy
It's hurting
Believing
Your preaching
Said all been paid Once every now and then we hide inside
To grasp reality and let our light shine through
We welcome to end raids and rising tides
And the darkness that surrounds us turns to light Take it for the anniversary era
Out of our sight
