Another Lie

Dio

She's a rumor in the night It's crazy You can see her but she isn't there She's the stealer of the light It's crazy But you go anywhere It was just a summer night Maybe When a shiver cut across the air Should you run and get away Maybe To go where-where She crouches the hunter Ready to tell you Another lie Another lie You could see the side of someday Feel the power of the young and strong You were learning how to fly someway You were wrong-wrong-wrong She jumped at the moment A chance to tell you Another lie It was just a summer night Maybe When a shiver cut across the air Should you run and get away Maybe To go where-where She jumps at the moment She crouches the hunter yeah You look and you know she's telling you Another lie Another lie Why it's crazy When you feel you're getting stronger Why it's crazy All the lies are getting longer
