What's In The Middle

The Bird And The Bee

Oh yeah, yeah
Uno, dos, tres, quattro
Where is the middle, is the middle of your mind?
Is it the place where you stop, where you just stop trying?
Call out the dogs and let them have a sniff
They might catch a little scent before you just forget it
Losing your head is such a common theme
All your brains are falling out, falling out the open seams
Where is the heart, is the heart of the matter
I must empty up my skull of all this useless chatter
I want an empty head
I wanna go to bed for a long, long, long time
I wanna fall behind
And not a get in line for a long, long, long time
What's in a name if it's a name you can't remember?
You thought you had it down but then you ran back to the center
What's in a word if the word has lost it's meaning?
If you say it all the time a dirty word will get its cleaning
Where is the end, is the edge of understanding?
I might think it's overrated or can't take the mind expanding
Give me a pint, a little push in one direction
I might need a little help with my own interconnection
I want an empty head
I wanna go to bed for a long, long, long time
I wanna fall behind
And not a get in line for a long, long, long time
I want an empty head
I wanna go to bed for a long, long, long time
I wanna fall behind
And not a get in line for a long, long, long time
I want an empty head
I wanna go to bed for a long, long, long time
I wanna fall behind
And not a get in line for a long, long, long time

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/