

Cages

Tesseract

No little secrets left to compare No feelings left of me to dare
No worries left for me to despair
Only emptiness Enticed by the familiar candlelight
I see swaying up ahead You ask, "Was it all for nothing, do you trust in me. are you special?"
you're the menace of the night, inquisitive to my request and i ask, "Do you have discretion, assiduity, freedom?" I knew that it was wrong to believe I was letting go and I can't deal with the vice below and I knew that it was wrong I denied you all along You dissipate while i became an isolated fool
I am the prisoner
You disappear while I'm left here stuck in isolation
This is abandoned love You dissipate, I'm full of hate without hope and vision To disappear into the cage of solitude this abandoned love you dissipate without a hope and vision you are the prisoner you disappear into isolation Build you cages
Cage of solitude
Build your cages
Cage of solitude
